AT THE VILLAGE GREEN — Twelve-year-old David Sanders of the Georgetown Rd. paused yesterday at the Village Green to admire the fountain which is spouting water once again after adjustments were made by Park Commission workers. The statue for the downtown park at State and Lincoln, which commemorates Salem's Sesquicentennial in 1956, was a gift of Mrs. F. P. Mullins of S. Lincoln Ave. Its origin and history are not known, except that it once graced the lawn of the A. O. Silver residence years ago. The fountain had not been turned on this summer because of difficulty adjusting the spray.

Ben Khedda Yields To Leftist Faction

ALGIERS (AP)—Dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella was reported moving today toward the seat of power in Algiers following the capitulation of Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda's moderate regime to Ben Bella's army-backed leftist faction.

Ben Bella was due today in the central Algerian town of Tiarret from his western headquarters at Tlemcen for the first meeting of the National Liberation Front's Political Bureau, which will take over effective control of the government. Ben Bella is one of the bureau's seven members and its dominant voice. He is expected to become its chairman and possibly take on the premiership as well.

Three other Political Bureau members arranged to take part in the meeting in Tiarret, 140 miles southwest of Algiers. The three other members, all ministers in Ben Khedda's government, were believed planning to join the others later, either in Tiarret or when the bureau moves its activities to Algiers.

The Political Bureau was created by the revolutionary parliament, the National Council of the Algerian Revolution (CNRA), at a meeting in Tripoli June 7.

The six regulations, with Miss Macy's comments, are:

1. Babysitters must be paid the amount promised. "Some customers have been contracting to pay 75 cents an hour, then have reneged and paid only 50 cents."

2. A minimum one-day notice, except in an emergency. "Some persons call us on an hour's notice."

3. Notify the sitter if the television set is not working. "If we know there's no television we can bring a book."

4. No introduction of additional children. "Some persons recently have told us they have only two children and then before they leave they bring over three children of neighbors."

5. Time-and-a-half for afternoon assignments and for all hours after midnight. "The added charge for day work is because the children are all awake and it takes a lot more work to keep them quiet."

6. Treatment as babysitters and not as servants. "Some customers act as if we were in the pre-Civil War slave era. We are experienced babysitters and expect to be treated as such."

Pan Am, Engineers Approve Pact

Accord Ends Surprise 6-Hour Negotiations

Terms Proposed by Secretary Goldberg Basis of Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pan American World Airways and its flight engineers settled their labor dispute today on terms proposed by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

The agreement, announced by Goldberg at 2 a.m. following a six-hour surprise negotiating session, calls for binding arbitration of economic issues and settlement of the tangled jet crew issues along lines he proposed earlier in the week.

Will Have Priority

To a great extent the Flight Engineers International Association will be getting what it wanted. When the airlines cut their jet crews from four to three men, currently employed engineers will have priority for the third spot.

Even as the negotiators were meeting, a new strike threat was posed by the Transport Workers Union against Pan American and Northeast Airlines.

The Pan American settlement had no direct relation to the engineers' 33-day-old strike against Eastern Air Lines. But since the terms were identical to those rejected by Eastern after acceptance by the union, it appeared the agreement might have a bearing on the Eastern strike.

Considered Acceptable
Goldberg said Eastern had considered his proposals acceptable earlier. A Labor Department spokesman said no new meetings were planned in the Eastern strike, adding "the next move is up to them."

Eastern's offer to hire its 575 striking engineers on an individual basis expired at midnight. The offer had been accompanied by the threat that engineers not rejoining for work would lose their rights to jet flight engineer jobs.

The company did not say how many had returned.

Eastern resumed limited operations Monday and continued Tuesday with two flights each way.

Living Costs Hit New High

Increased Food Prices Hike Index

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs edged up in June to another new record largely because of higher food prices, especially cost of restaurant meals.

The Labor Department announced today its consumer price index rose one-tenth of one per cent to 105.3 per cent of the 1957-59 base period. This means that the value of the dollar in retail markets is about 5 cents less than in the comparative period.

The June living cost rise was largely attributed to a 9 per cent increase in prices of fresh fruits but this was largely seasonal.

Restaurant meals rose one-half of one per cent in the month. The over-all food index is now at a record high with grocery store prices up by one per cent from last year and restaurant meals 2.8 per cent above a year ago.

The over-all living cost index has increased eight-tenths of one per cent since the start of this year, and has set new records in four of the six months. Compared

'Mr. X' Gives Self Up In Stock Theft

NEW YORK (AP)—Alan Jack Pomeranz, named by authorities as the mysterious "Mr. X" in the case of the $1.3-million stock theft from Bache & Co., walked into Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan's office Tuesday and gave himself up.

Pomeranz, 33, who was arrested on a charge of criminally receiving stolen property, would give interrogators no information other than his name, age and address.

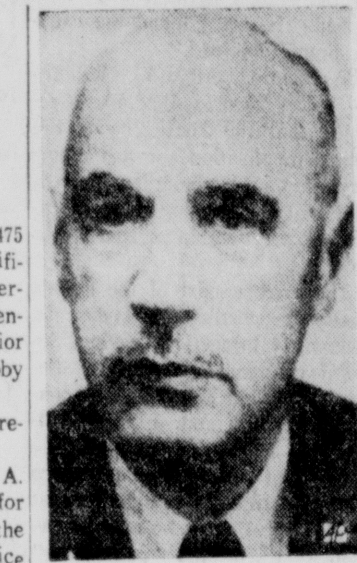

But Hogan, describing Pomeranz as "a salesman of sorts who lived by his wits, a salesman of products and ideas," said "Mr. X" had contracted to dispose of the blue chip stocks stolen from the Wall Street vaults of Bache & Co.

Pomeranz' surrender was the second of two surprises for Hogan.

The first surprise came when the federal government announced that Pomeranz was "Mr. X"—a piece of information given to the FBI by Hogan Friday and kept secret by his office.

Hogan said his office had only five minutes advance notice before U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau announced the issuance of a warrant for Pomeranz.

Morgenthau also announced the arrest of a 13th defendant in the CHARGED — Dr. Werner Heyde, shown at time of his capture by West German authorities in 1959, was formally charged Monday, with the mass murder of at least 100,000 persons under the Nazi program to kill mentally defective.

Heyde escaped from an American prison camp in 1947 before he could be tried.

2 Injured In Racial March
King May Halt Demonstrations

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — Negro leaders weighed today a possible suspension of mass racial demonstrations after violence climaxed a protest march in this uneasy southwest Georgia city.

The ripple of violence, in which two officers received minor injuries, came Tuesday night just a few hours after a federal judge's action cleared the way for Negroes to renew their anti-segregation activities.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta, integration leader who preaches nonviolence and passive resistance in the Negro's fight for equal rights, termed the incident regrettable. He said he would halt demonstrations temporarily if he feels Albany Negroes cannot stick to a strict nonviolent campaign.

The trouble developed when about 170 officers moved into the Negro section to disperse about 2,000 Negroes in the vicinity of a bus terminal.

State trooper Claude Hill of Tifton was struck by a rock, bruising his face and knocking out a tooth. Bottles and rocks rained onto the pavement as two lines of officers broke up milling crowds of Negroes.

The missiles flew after 39 Negroes and one white man marched from a church to the downtown area and were jailed for parading without a permit. Several hundred had started the march but most dropped out before reaching the area where police had warned demonstrators would be arrested.

Shortly before the march began, Negroes filed federal court action to desegregate all public facilities and to prevent police interference with anti-segregation demonstrations.

King, who had urged a mass rally that the Negroes march, said the violence "developed apparently from some onlookers who were not part of our movement."

Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals opened the way for renewed demonstrations by staying a temporary injunction against such protests. The injunction, issued Friday by U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Elliott, comes up for a hearing Monday in Albany.

Tuttle held that Elliott lacked jurisdiction for the sweeping order which banned marches, picketing, and boycotting by several persons and groups spearheading the integration fight here.

Reject Denial He Permitted Aide To Steal

Group's Findings Spelled Out In 40 Printed Pages

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate investigations subcommittee accused James K. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, of corrupt and continuing ties with New York mobster Antonio (Tony Ducks) Corallo.

The stinging report to the Senate today pictured Hoffa as a labor leader who doesn't care whether Teamsters aides rob and cheat the union or indulge in pay-off deals.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., told the Senate he had held up filing the report for more than half a year, lest the publicity interfere with a trial of Corallo.

Convicted In June
Corallo was convicted in June with former New York Supreme Court Justice J. Vincent Keough and Elliott Kahaner, former U.S. attorney in Brooklyn, on charges of conspiring to fix a federal court criminal case.

The subcommittee's unanimous findings rejected Hoffa's sworn denial that he had sent this word to Corallo, the alleged real power in New York Teamsters Local 239.

"I don't care if you want to— you want to steal, you want to rob, go ahead. Don't get caught. Don't get caught."

New York City police telephone wiretappers had recorded the message as allegedly passed along to Corallo by Bernard Stein, another New York Hoffa aide who had just conferred in Washington with Hoffa.

"This subcommittee," the report to the Senate said, "by force of the overwhelming evidence, must conclude that Hoffa in callous disregard of the welfare of the Teamsters membership, in fact does not care whether officials of Local 239 or, for that matter, officials of any other segment of the Teamsters Union, are robbing, stealing, dealing under the table, or indulging in any other improper or criminal activities."

Spelled Out Findings
In 40 printed pages the subcommittee spelled out findings based on hearings it conducted in January 1961 on Hoffa, Corallo and other Teamsters figures.

It charged that the 1961 hearings

Hearing Thursday In Job Dispute

LISBON — Mrs. Jane Case of Columbiana, former switchboard operator at Columbiana County Courthouse, will return Thursday to fight her discharge for alleged political activity.

The hearing will begin at 9 a.m. in Courtroom No. 2 before the State Civil Service Commission's board of review to whom Mrs. Case appealed.

Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw will represent the county commissioners. They fired Mrs. Case and two other appointees last May a few days after the women won a 15½-month legal battle for the right to their former jobs. They claimed Civil Service protection.

They had been replaced by Republican appointees Feb. 1, 1961, after the board of commissioners returned to GOP control.

All three Democrats were fired in May as they returned to work. Commissioners charged they had been active politically in violation of Civil Service laws.

Only Mrs. Case appealed to the board of review. The other two found employment elsewhere.

No Progress Made Toward Settlement of Berlin Issue

GENEVA (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko return home, probably Thursday, after another thorough examination of the Western-Soviet dispute over Berlin and no apparent progress toward agreement.

Rusk and Gromyko held to their usual positions Tuesday in a 3½-hour meeting, their third since they arrived here last weekend for the windup of the 14-nation Laos conference and to address the deadlocked 17-nation disarmament conference.

The American spokesman said the meeting failed to produce "any significant change on the Berlin question."

Gromyko told newsmen the talks included the subject of a German peace treaty. This meant, the U.S. spokesman said, that "Mr. Gromyko discussed a peace treaty and Mr. Rusk discussed what Mr. Gromyko said."

The Soviet Union has long threatened to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany and turn control of West Berlin's supply lifelines over to the East Germans. There have been reports that the Russians intend to sign such a treaty later this year unless the West agrees to Soviet proposals to make West Berlin a so-called free city and withdraw the U.S., British and French garrisons.

Rusk once again repeated the Western position that a Soviet-East German peace treaty would not wipe away Western rights in Berlin gained through the Allies' conquest of Nazi Germany. Rusk said these rights were neither granted by the Russians nor could they be abrogated by them.

Hearing Set on State's Request To Padlock Club

LISBON—Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp has scheduled for 10 a.m. next Tuesday a hearing on the state's petition to padlock the Veterans Social Club, East Liverpool, as a "public nuisance."

The court Tuesday afternoon overruled a demurrer filed by defense counsel, Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, who contended that several causes of action in the state's petition are misjoined. The court found the causes properly joined.

Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw agreed to Alexander's request that the hearing on the state's application for a temporary injunction be discontinued, and that the hearing on padlocking be set "within a reasonable time."

The greater part of the state's case was presented Friday at the temporary injunction hearing. Several residents adjacent to the east end night spot testified concerning noise and drinking outside the front of the club.

At that time, Judge Sharp granted Brokaw's request that Friday's testimony be used as evidence when the "padlocking" case is heard.

Telstar Flashes Telecast Of Berlin Wall to Americans

NEW YORK (AP)—The awe-some and chilling image of the Berlin wall was brought home to Americans Tuesday night—literally—as a live telecast of the barrier dividing the city was flashed to the United States via Telstar.

The program originated in the American sector of Berlin, at Heinrich Heine-Strasse, where there is a crossing point for West Germans to enter East Berlin. It was carried by the National Broadcasting Co. as, for the first time in history, all three major American networks offered individual live television news reports from Europe.

The American Broadcasting Co. presented its chief European correspondent, Lou Cioffi, from Paris, and diplomatic correspondent John Scali from Geneva.

The Columbia Broadcasting System presented a live program from Paris and a part-live, part-taped newscast from Geneva.

In the NBC transmission from Berlin—120 miles behind the Iron Curtain—floodlights illuminated the barbed wire and the armed guards at the wall, while cameras picked up the image that was fed to Telstar and, ultimately, to home screens in the United States.

Associated Press newsmen George Boulwood reported in a cabled dispatch from Berlin that the East German guards on the wall showed lively interest as the West Berlin equipment was set up.

Brass & Copper Co. has announced it will move its headquarters here from Waterbury, Conn.

Spend And Cut And Elect

Whether the late Harry Hopkins said it or not, the advice he is supposed to have given the New Dealers was politically sound:

Spend and spend and elect and elect.

This was the formula that nailed down the big-city vote for the New Deal. It nailed down the farm vote, notably in 1948 when Harry Truman told the farmers they'd be ingrates if they didn't vote for him.

With it "spendocrats" made political history, proving the Founding Fathers were right when they feared greed would undermine the foundations of the republic if the people ever learned how to raid their own treasury.

THE FORMULA worked so well that to this day the Republicans find themselves campaigning on the same me-too theme used by Thomas E. Dewey in his two unsuccessful campaigns. They too spend and spend in quest of votes.

It is likely to be this way if the Kennedy administration institutes a tax cut in 1962. There will be no party-line division. Republicans will approve of tax-cutting as heartily as Democrats.

There will even be an improvement in the Hopkins spend-and-elect formula. The new prescription will be spend-cut-and-elect.

Few people in political circles will point to the mental dishonesty and the fiscal absurdity of cutting taxes with no corresponding reductions of federal spending.

A FEW, however, will put integrity ahead of expediency.

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis of Missouri and Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, both Republicans, have said it is foolish to think about tax cuts without reductions in spending.

G. Keith Funston president of the New York Stock Exchange, has pointed to the same folly. He admits a tax cut would stimulate the economy but insists it would be unwise unless accompanied by a decrease in the spending rate.

Spend and spend, and cut and cut and elect and elect.

If the Hopkins formula was hard to beat, this one should be insuperable.

With strong bipartisan support it should be able to wreck the country if it ever gets loose.

Proof Will Be Awaited

Insurance companies and nonprofit medical care groups like Blue Cross are sharpening their pencils on better coverage for the elderly, following the Senate turn-down of the compromise proposal for "medicare."

They are eager to provide proof they can do anything the federal government was offering to do—and better. But as they intensify their efforts to prove this it is well to realize the enormity of the problems they must solve.

Chief of these is how to break even if they are nonprofit, or if they are profit-making to justify the risk they must take. Insurance companies are by no means certain they can meet the challenge of rising sickness costs for the elderly without developing new ideas for cutting costs and distributing risks.

No insurance company, moreover, has any solution for the most vexing problem of medical disaster insurance—how to cope with clients who are by no means indigent yet cannot afford to buy the complete coverage they need as they reach the age of greatest risk.

It is being pointed out in this connection that coverage which does not protect against long-term illness cannot be classed as adequate protection. This always has been the special obstacle to sickness-cost insurance for the elderly; their illnesses are rarely of brief duration.

At the two extremes there always has been security against the rising cost of sickness. The well-to-do never have had a problem. In recent years the indigent have had fewer problems than they had a generation ago.

The problem begging for solution now is between the extremes of wealth and indigency—millions of aging men and women who want to pay their own way to the end of the journey. Insurance companies and nonprofit medical care groups now are their best hope.

Contrary to what politicians would like to believe, "medicare" had the zing taken out of it by its defeat in the Senate. That was not the strategy that had been mapped out. The Senate was supposed to pass it. Its defeat was supposed to take place in the House.

Volunteer Firemen

The modern fire fighting equipment of today's volunteer departments in our district is a far cry from the apparatus used by the old Deluge and Independent Hose companies here in days gone by.

This has been made possible by various communities recognizing the need of adequate protection and then supporting, by means of a small operating levy, a fire department manned by volunteers who almost make fire-fighting a hobby. The recent pictorial story of the Damascus department was typical of outstanding groups in such neighboring communities as Greenford, Leetonia, Columbiana, Lisbon, Winona, Guilford and Hanoverton, New Waterford, Negley, Rogers, West Point, Beloit, Washingtonville and elsewhere.

Most of these towns have entered into compacts with their neighbors to help one another fight fire, a "good neighbor" policy that's mighty reassuring in time of a major conflagration or any other type of disaster.

Stonehenge

By Truman Twill

To round out this series on memorable things about England I say with no hesitation the most memorable experience was Stonehenge. It was the one thing I had specified in advance that I wanted to see.

My reason was something inside me that makes me want to be reminded in every way possible of a fact I believe cannot be safely ignored. It is the fact our short stay on earth is one fraction of a tick of the clock of eternity.

We own nothing here. We accomplish scarcely anything in a long lifetime and nothing that can be assured of permanency. We therefore owe all our respect to the earth on which we have been privileged to live our tiny span. We owe boundless kindness and consideration to one another because these human qualities when we're at our best are all we have to offer to a planet that has no shortages of violence, pain, brutality and destruction.

Stonehenge is so ancient the archeologists admit they're guessing when they say it goes back to more years before Christ than have accumulated after Christ—at least to 2400 B.C. They admit they're guessing about what it was used for—sun worship, burial ceremony, fertility ceremony.

All there is to see are huge stones clustered in a circle, with unmistakable evidence of sophisticated masonry surviving after perhaps as long as 4,000-5,000 years. For centuries, men looked at the stones and saw nothing in them but a chance to steal free building material.

Stonehenge still can be looked at as a collection of stones, and I feel sure it is looked at that way by many visitors who go there. But I had gone there with something else in mind—a sensory gratification.

I wanted to put my hand on those great stones and make contact with antiquity. I wanted a sense of continuity to flow through my fingers; I wanted to believe that I and a Neolithic man who once had stood in the City's Good Record

The city of Salem has received a three-year citation for no pedestrian traffic deaths in 1959, '60 and '61 but the honor must be shared by motorists and pedestrians alike.

It requires cooperation to win such an award, a combination of alertness by the man and woman afoot and the person behind the wheel, who also must never cease their vigil for children who sometimes seem to appear from nowhere on city streets.

The American Automobile Association's plaque is a salute to every Salem citizen and a challenge to do as well in '62.

Why do mosquitoes bite when it's so hot we're not up to scratch.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

WEST BERLIN
Everybody drives over to "Checkpoint Charlie," our official hole in the Wall — just as every body sees the Taj Mahal outside of Delhi. Now it's a tourist attraction. But once you hear the vicious chatter of automatic Communist gun-fire, once you hear the dull thud and strange noise of a tear gas bomb, once you stand just a few yards from where the Soviet police shot down two escaping children, just urchins, you get a little sick inside and you want to scream at the tourists to stop treating this like another pyramid. I've just stood not far from where a bullet-riddled kid lay dead not so long ago.

And I think of what I heard in London town the other day. I had asked to see Sir Winston Churchill, but could get only to some of his friends because he was then in the hospital.

We talked of another of Sir Winston's friends, the late Sir Jacob Epstein, famed sculptor who so sensitively put so much of the world's sadness into his heroic figures.

ONE OF THESE was the great Biblical "Lazarus." Nikita Khrushchev saw it at New College, Oxford, during his visit to England. Khrushchev spat at it saying, "Decadent capitalist art!"

Sir Jacob heard of the incident. The artist immediately wired the Soviet chairman: "Khrushchev, you stick to murder, leave sculpture to me.—Epstein."

I think of this now because I have just spent much time here with world labor leaders—many of them in flowing robes, turbans and embroidered skull caps, many from the flash news spots of tomorrow — Chad, Gabon, Somalia, Mauritania, Upper Volta, Cameroun Sierra Leone Kenya.

BACK HOME you don't think of unions in Chad or Cameroun or Kenya. But the Soviet leaders do — for they know that control of new labor federations will mean control of new nations.

And from the leaders of these unions, who came here for a global conference of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions, I have heard reports of Soviet terror, Soviet bribery, Soviet infiltration and methodical movements of young Africans to brainwashing centers behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains.

The Russians and Chinese, though bankrupt and on food rations, always have millions of dollars for the invisible invasion of new nations, control of which could mean control of the African continent.

I have, for example, just heard from a chap I met in Nairobi, Kenya. He is Ronald Ngala, president of the Kenya African Democratic Union. He has charged that the Russians have poured more than $280,000 into Kenya in the past year.

THIS MONEY has gone to just one man. We know his name. British intelligence knows his name. London has traced the funds to him. He distributes them. He sets up cadres. He creates business fronts.

He rounds up bright young Kenyans for long stays in Moscow, Warsaw, Prague and Peiping.

Regularly he travels to Moscow and Peiping himself. He gets his briefings there. He now is in Kenya, but is planning another visit to Moscow.

At the moment there are 150 students, all picked by this Mr. X, studying in those Communist capitals. They will return to become Kenyan labor leaders and government officials.

Kenya's defense minister, A. C. Swann, has said that, "If they are allowed to exert influence in Kenya on their return, life would become nasty, brutish and short."

NGALA HAS WARNED that "Already the greedy eyes of another form of colonialism are upon us. Are we to shake off our chains marked 'made in Britain' only to be bound by those marked 'made in Peiping' or 'made in Moscow'?"

I'm informed that the money coming into Kenya is not used for Communist propaganda. It is used to pay for an underground apparatus.

It is used to bribe and organize forces which will take orders from the Soviet and Chinese apparatus.

There is evidence of this, for example, in Cameroun. There the secretary of state for labor reported his men had raided headquarters of Ali Guma, formerly with the Anti-Communist "Union Generale des Travailleurs Camerounais (UGTC)."

He had been expelled for organizing the "Cameroun National Labor Congress." In Mr. Guma's quarters were found secret documents and literature from the Soviet-Sino bloc.

There are other similar reports of Soviet operations on the labor front in Nigeria, which is permitting the study of Russian for the first time, in Chad, in Dahomey, in Upper Volta.

For example, in Casablanca there is the Soviet-controlled International Trade Union Committee of Solidarity with Algerian Workers and People.

THIS IS PART of the Soviet sabotage and propaganda network known as the World Federation of Trade Unions. It spends millions of dollars annually.

Virtually none of this is known back home. Unhappily, if it were known, few would care. That is, until the headlines blazed news of violence and war on the African continent.

I write of Kenya and Cameroun and Chad and Dahomey now, just as I did in past years of Stanleyville and Lumumba. It is time that we know the full significance of the far-off places, the little known places, the strange name places.

Let's get there fustest with the mostest before the Communists capture another continent.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm not wasting any tears on that 20-year-old who calls herself "Nicotine Fit." Of course she can't quit smoking. It takes guts to quit—and she doesn't have it.

She says she's hopelessly hooked after four years. Well, I was a four-pack-a-day man for more than 15 years. One night I decided I'd had enough of clothes reeking with stale smoke, holes in my shirts, ties and pants, constant coughing and stained teeth.

My doctor said "Good luck, but I don't think you can do it. I can't." I quit cold after a terrible coughing spell. The first week was agony and it frightened me because I didn't realize I was so far gone. It made me more determined than ever to sweat it out.

For 20 months now I've been rid of the monstrous habit. How lovely are the food smells and tastes I have not experienced for 15 years. And I haven't coughed in weeks. It's heavenly. — THE VICTOR.

Dear Victor: A 21-gun salute to you, Sir. If you could kick the habit anyone can!

Too Hospitable

Dear Ann: I can't keep a female friend for more than two weeks. My husband gets a crush on every woman who walks into this house. It doesn't matter if she's old or young. "From two to toothless" is his motto. He hugs the sitters and cozies up to the laundress. Last week he flipped over the mother of my next door neighbor. She must be at least 20 years older than he is.

We've been married eight years and he's a good provider and a fine father but I'm humiliated when he rhapsodizes over someone else's sensational figure and beautiful eyes.

He never goes out at night alone so I'm pretty sure he hasn't had any involvements. But I'm afraid it won't be long now.

Leaving him would be simple. My parents are well fixed and I can always go home, but my children would be the big losers. Please help me.—LOVER BOY'S WIFE.

Dear Wife: Your husband sounds like a "viewer"—not a "doer." This type rarely slips over the line. It's those quiet boys you have to worry about.

A married man who slobbers over women looks to all the world like a fool. Such gushing is rarely appreciated by the victims. While he intends to flatter them, he succeeds only in making them uncomfortable and generating sympathy for his wife.

Rise above the indignities and let's hope "Lover Boy" grows up before his children are old enough to be aware of his antics.

Telstar Overrated

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Transmission By Cable May Be Less Expensive

Most people have been led to believe that the only way to provide transatlantic television is by means of Telstar—the communications satellite now orbiting the earth. Actually, some-day it may prove more economical to transmit television signals by cables laid under the ocean.

David Lawrence

Most people also don't know that the Telstar is risky in that another government undoubtedly could "jam" it out of operation any time it wanted to make the effort.

It's hard to understand why there is so much excitement about the Telstar stunt when voice transmission by radio telephone, both from ship to shore and from shore to shore, has been going on for almost forty years.

Today, telephone conversations between European cities and the United States go on constantly. They are carried on by both radio—through the atmosphere—and by undersea cables. What is novel, of course, is the transmission of television signals across oceans. Up to now, this has not been done through the air or by undersea cables. But this doesn't mean the latter isn't possible. In fact, this correspondent is told by authoritative sources that it isn't as yet clear whether sending television by Telstar is eventually going to be as economical as it would be to transmit the signals through undersea cables.

Indeed, more undersea cables are being laid between America and Europe right along. The reason is that atmospheric conditions, especially in the summer-time, occasionally interfere with radio transmission, whereas undersea cables are immune from that handicap.

THERE ARE PARTS of the world, such as between Africa and South America, where it probably wouldn't be considered worthwhile to lay undersea cables, and hence the Telstar method would doubtless be used. But it so happens that the laying of an undersea cable between the United States and Japan is already planned because the growth of daily business transactions demands it.

Another aspect of the Telstar innovation which has been over-emphasized is the scientific side. Actually, there is little in the Telstar operation that is basically different from the thousands of microwave relay towers scattered through this and other countries except the power and amplification system and the environment.

The Telstar operation uses a well-known transmission theory. It doesn't bounce the signals off the ionosphere, as is done in radio, but is, in fact, a relay station in space that extends the otherwise limited line-of-sight range of TV signals.

The consensus among experts in the communications field is that technology will ultimately permit both satellites and undersea cables to be used on a consistent basis and that the choice will eventually depend on a large extent on which method proves more economical and provides better service for certain areas and purposes, including such considerations as secrecy and immunity from artificial interferences.

TELEVISION, of course, is a spectacular affair, and for the time being the fact that a show comes "live" from Europe by way of outer space will continue to attract popular interest. But the novelty will soon wear off, because the television interests of the peoples of other countries are largely in their own national affairs, due to language barriers and differences in customs.

As for dramatic shows, these are generally taped in advance anyway and can be shipped abroad for a few dollars in postage, and thereby a lot of expense is saved.

Occasionally, some big sports events or speeches by international personalities might attract worldwide attention, but these will hardly get the high percentage of watchers in America that the World Series does every year.

The Telstar operation is a good stunt from the television side and a forward step in communications, but its scientific and practical significance has been somewhat overrated.

Oddly enough, nobody says that government should become involved in telephone and television communication by radio waves or undersea cables, but somehow, because Telstar operates through space, there has been a tendency to bring government in to the problem, even to the point of its trying to fix the extent of private investment.

This is a dangerous tendency. What people want is efficiency, and certainly the telephone systems in other countries—nearly all of which are owned and operated by the governments concerned—give very poor service compared to that furnished by private telephone systems in the United States. The incentive to good service is missing abroad, and the people's interests suffer.

ALREADY there are signs that governments want to regulate television program content internationally. This is something that the United States ought not support. For if only governmental propaganda and censored programs are to be transmitted to American audiences and, conversely, if American productions are to be submitted to foreign governments for approval, a backward step will be taken in the historic battle for freedom of communication and freedom of information.

The American government certainly should not be in the position of sanctioning governmental supervision of program content. This is the Soviet concept. It is contrary to true liberalism in the American tradition.

Our Readers

Comments on Council

After attending the last meeting of City Council I would like to make the following observations:

First, to remind all city officials that they were chosen by the voters to work for our community, regardless of personal or political opinions.

Second, that if some used the same tactics in their businesses, they would soon be out of a job.

Third, no one individual has the "correct" answer. Arguments are poor publicity.

I'd like to ask why, for example, Mrs. Astory has to wait almost a year before the administration puts up the downtown "walk" lights for us pedestrians, and why it should take 10 weeks to get the blinker light at Third and Lundy (installed a few days before school started) changed back to a traffic light to allow small children to cross the street safely?

I ask why all the fighting and delay on the parking meter problem? I can see no reason why this could not have been settled in less than a month on a basis similar to the final settlement.

On Mayor Cranmer's suggestion and the motion to further investigate the housing for the aged, I can find nothing that commits Salem to do more than investigate the problem from all angles. All Council members will know that any final action must come from them, and that no possible harm can come from investigating.

It was rather amusing to hear Mr. Rance make an impassioned speech, saying he was against it because he was against reaching into the "federal grab bag." I ask Mr. Rance and the others who voted against investigating to recall three things (with which I heartily agree) that they voted for which, looking at the actions, could easily be called a local "grab bag." Their vote was "yes" on changing the zoning laws to enable the Salem Label Co. to build a new building, to give the Bliss Co. part of the sidewalk for their new building, and the Farmers Bank six inches of the sidewalk on North Broadway to face the building with brick. Two of these will help make permanent jobs, the other will improve our business district.

This is progress and I am for it, even if it means giving city property away.

I am at a total loss as to Council's actions in endorsing one and not wanting to even investigate the other.

Unfavorable publicity at City Hall words a hardship on that fine group of good citizens who are working so hard to get new industries.

Deaths, Funerals

Hartman Funeral

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p.m. (EST) at the Toland-Herzog Funeral Home in Dover for George W. (Bill) Hartman, 72, of New Philadelphia, who died Monday night at his home after a long illness.

Mr. Hartman had served the last three years as a school patrolman in New Philadelphia. A retired employee of the Greer Steel Co. in Dover, he also had worked as a streetcar motorman for the former Northern Ohio Traction and Light Co. At one time, he was employed at the New Philadelphia plant of the former American Sheet and Tin Plate Co.

He was a member of St. John's Church in Dover. Born in Holmes County, a son of Emanuel and Elizabeth Ley Hartman, he was married to the former Verna Burkey.

Worker Is Killed In Plant Explosion

CLEVELAND (AP) — William Tinker, 26, of Cleveland was killed Tuesday night when two explosions and a fire destroyed the Torq Industrial Power Co. plant at 2111 E. 96th St.

His body was found near a back door of the electrical motor repair plant more than an hour after the first blast struck. Cause of the explosions was undetermined.

Assistant Fire Chief John Eble estimated damage at $75,000 and said the plant, a remodeled bowling alley which contained equipment valued at $50,000, was a total loss.

A foreman, Arthur Mang, 54, said he was near the front of the 90-foot-long, one-story building when he heard an explosion at the rear. Tinker was working there. As he neared the area, Mang said he heard Tinker yell "fire, fire."

A second and larger blast shook the building and the rear of the plant quickly was filled with smoke and flames, Mang said. Another worker, Johnson Jones, 33, dashed into the plant. But he and Mang were unable to locate Tinker and flames forced them back.

IMPROPER CAR TAGS

Arthur K. Ford, 51, of RD 3, Salem, was fined $25 and costs in mayor's court Tuesday for operating a vehicle with fictitious plates. He was cited on S. Lincoln Ave. at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday after he went through a red light, police said.

Bliss Sales Up; Earnings Down

The E. W. Bliss Co. reported today second quarter sales of $29,258,762 and net income of $547,918 for the period ended June 30. This compares to 1961 second quarter sales of $23,201,467 and earnings of $694,602.

For the six months ended June 30, 1962, sales were $58,021,244 and net income was $1,431,402.

Net was equal to 50 cents per share after preferred dividend requirements on shares outstanding June 30, 1962. This compares with net income of $1,123,852 on sales of $46,350,109 for the six months ended June 30, 1961. Net income for that period was 38 cents per share. Net income for the second quarter of 1962 was 19 cents versus 24 cents for the 1961 second quarter.

Results for both periods include the acquisition in December, 1961, of Portland Copper and Tank Works, Inc.

Hoffa

showed Corallo, after ostensibly resigning as vice president and boss of Local 239, ran it from behind the scenes through "dummy" officials who did no work and who turned over to Corallo their pay checks totaling $31,000 a year.

The subcommittee said Hoffa was well aware of this, and called its evidence indisputable. Its probe, the subcommittee said, thwarted a scheme between Hoffa and Corallo to restore to the presidency of Local 239 the convicted extortionist and bribe-taker Samuel Goldstein.

The subcommittee accused Hoffa of having fought efforts by a now disbanded federal court Board of Monitors to houseclean his union. It listed case after case to support allegations that Hoffa made no effort to clean the union. It pointed to:

Hoffa's testimony defending his appointment of Frank Matula as an international Teamsters trustee (auditor) after Matula's 1959 conviction on perjury charges, and the fact that Matula was left in this paid job while serving his prison sentence.

The case of Anthony (Tony Pro) Provenzano, president of Teamsters Local 560 in Hoboken, N.J., promoted by Hoffa to the post of international vice president of the union in 1959 and kept in the post after being indicted in 1960 on federal labor racketeering charges.

Hoffa's refusal to oust Joseph (Joey) Gimco as president of Chicago Taxicab Local 777. Rebellious members of the union voted Gimco out of the post last year.

Hoffa's decision allowing D. Harold Gross to resign under honorable conditions as an official of New York Local 138 after conviction on income tax law violation charges, but taking no action on prior allegations that Gross had been shaking down employers.

The case of Raymond Cohen, secretary-treasurer of Philadelphia Local 107 and an international trustee, as "the classic example of the extremes to which Hoffa will go to 'acquit' officers concerning whom there was readily available evidence of forgeries, misappropriation of union funds, and other improper activities."

Failure to oust William Presser as president of Cleveland Local 555 and head of the Ohio Conference of Teamsters after Presser was convicted in 1960 of contempt of Congress and obstruction of justice.

Costs

with a year ago living costs are 1.2 per cent higher.

Robert J. Myers, the Labor Department price expert, said July price trends are cloudy but that he thought a further small living cost increase was likely.

Commenting on the continuing rise in prices of restaurant meals, Myers said labor costs of restaurant operators undoubtedly have been going up somewhat but that the Labor Department had noticed that the largest away-from-home meal increases have been in cities that cater to the tourist trade.

In that connection, Myers said restaurant meals went up 1.7 per cent in New York City in June and 1.2 per cent in Washington. He said the demand factor apparently had something to do with higher restaurant meal costs.

The Labor Department also announced that average earnings of factory workers rose to a new high in June. The after-tax earnings of the worker heading a family of four averaged $85.91 weekly, up from $85.73 in May.

Myers said the earnings rise was one of the smallest May-June increases in many years and was largely due to somewhat longer working hours.

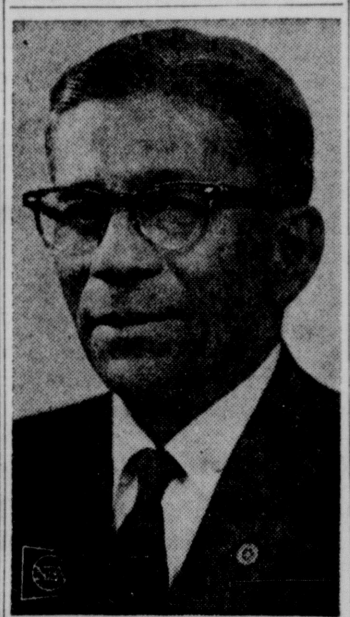

Thoughts

So I saw that there is nothing better than that a man should enjoy his work, for that is his lot; who can bring him to see what will be after him?—Eccl. 3:22.

FINED AFTER COLLISION

Millicent B. Hall, 61, of East Liverpool, was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer Tuesday for changing lanes without caution. Police said she pulled her car from the left turn lane into the through lane on E. State St. east of Ellsworth Ave. at 1:50 p.m. Tuesday and struck an auto operated by Elizabeth A. Naples Held on Bug Slips Charge

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Joey Naples, 29, whose brothers, Billy and Sandy, were victims of gangland-style slayings, has been arrested by police. They say they found numbers slips in a secret compartment of the Naples home Tuesday.

Lt. Michael Carney, acting chief of detectives, said when officers opened the door to the hidden basement compartment they found Joey Naples seated at a desk. Several guns also were found, Carney said.

The home had been searched previously without success. Carney said officers, with a search warrant, went to the home again Tuesday and found in the paneled basement a switch that opened a door to the compartment.

Shotguns, automatic pistols and rifles were seized, Carney said.

Billy Naples, 39, was killed by a bomb July 1. Sandy was shot-gunned to death March 11, 1960. Neither slaying has been solved. Joey was charged with promoting a numbers game.

between Miami and New York.

Both Pan American and Eastern were struck on June 23. Within four hours Pan American, the nation's biggest overseas carrier, had obtained a federal court restraining order against the union.

Eastern made no attempt to get a legal ban or postponement of the strike.

Crew Issue Foremost

Throughout the dispute, and in similar negotiations with Trans World Airlines and American Airlines, the jet crew issue has been foremost.

The airlines are expected to announce shortly reduction of jet cockpit crews from four men to three. The flight engineers want the third job. The airlines want men trained as pilots to hold it.

Goldberg's proposal, to which Pan American and the union agreed, was that engineers currently working for the airline would get the job, until attrition gradually cuts their ranks, at which time pilot-trained men also would be employed in the third slot. The engineers agree to take pilot training, and give up their demand that engineers be qualified mechanics.

Envelopes more than nine inches in width or 12 inches in length are not recommended.

City Tries to Make Walk Light Brighter

The city is continuing its experiment today with a traffic "walk" light at the intersection of E. State St. and Lincoln Ave.

The light was put up Tuesday but taken down again before it was put into operation. Mayor Dean Cranmer said the letters W-A-L-K did not have the desired illumination to allow them to be seen easily by pedestrians and motorists.

Electrical department workers are attempting to remedy this so that another attempt can be made today to put the light in operation.

If the experiment with a walk light at the State and Lincoln intersection proves satisfactory, plans are to install similar lights at the other three downtown State St. intersections.

Stolen Car Is Found On Beechwood Road

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A three-month strike at the Saalfeld Publishing Co. ended Tuesday night when members of Bindery Workers Union Local 5 voted 113 to 23 to accept a new contract. Girl Scouts At Button Bay Mark 50th Anniversary BUTTON BAY, Vt.—A gigantic 50th birthday celebration, complete with cake, balloons, candles and singing, was held in an outdoor arena Tuesday by the 10,000 campers attending the 1962 Girl Scout Senior Roundup at Button Bay State Park, Vermont.

Throughout the ceremonies, 500 lights twinkled through holes pierced in a 24-foot-high x 58-foot-long backdrop map of the United States.

Fifty-one birthday candles, including one to grow on, were lit on the three-tiered cake. Each candle honored some notable or aspect of Scouting, such as Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., the first troop of 12 girls, the Scout promise and laws, the 12 Girl Scout regions and the Girl Scout rose.

After lighting the candles, an enlarged replica of the Girl Scout 50th anniversary commemorative stamp was displayed.

As the candles were extinguished at the end of the campfire, the arena was lit by more than a thousand sparklers—one to each patrol of eight girls.

Legal Hassle Halts Abortion Plans

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A Phoenix woman broke into tears when she learned that legal complication had halted plans to abort her three-month pregnancy.

The woman, who has taken a drug blamed for the births of numerous malformed babies in Europe, had been scheduled to enter Good Samaritan Hospital today for the operation.

"I don't know what I'll do now," she said when informed hospital administrator Stephen Morris had canceled the operation.

The woman says she took some sleeping pills containing the drug, thalidomide, during her first weeks of pregnancy. She decided on an operation after a secret three-man panel of medical specialists, recommended abortion.

Arizona law forbids abortion except to save the life of the mother.

"Everything is being held in abeyance until the legal determination is made," Morris said. "It should be cleared up in a couple of days."

The woman said Tuesday she and her husband, a high school teacher, don't want to risk bringing a malformed child into the world.

The woman, who is in her 30s, said her husband obtained the thalidomide on a trip to Europe last year. She took some of the pills after they returned to Arizona.

James Rhodes, Jr., Honored By Dairymen's Cooperative

James A. Rhodes, Jr., of RD 2, Salem, has been named the District "E" winner of the Dairymen's Cooperative Sales Association's Young Farmer Award Program for 1962, according to Mrs. Vern Wehr, District Auxiliary representative. The award was announced at a recent meeting of all participants in Pittsburgh.

This award is made to one young farmer in each of the D.C.S.A. 10 director districts each year. Selection is on the basis of applicant's records of leadership and farm achievement, along with an essay on the value of cooperative marketing of milk.

Rhodes operates his own 72-acre farm five miles south of Salem. He maintains a milking herd of 30 head, plus livestock of pure bred Jerseys. The milk is marketed by the Association to Sealtest Foods in Youngstown. Rhodes was a leader during 7 years of 4-H club work, holding all offices. His project started with a dairy heifer.

At the present time, he serves on the Extension Association sponsored by Dairy Council and participates in many activities through the county agents office. In 1959 he was runner-up in the Alliance Jaycees "Outstanding Young Farmer Award." He is active in his church and D.C.S.A. Local. Young Rhodes is active in other farmer cooperative activities; a leader in the Guilford and Columbiana Pomona Grange. Last year he was chosen "Farmer of the Year" for his soil conservation program. He served four years in the U.S. Air Force and has taken special training in the School of Agriculture at Ohio State University as well as Veteran's training classes.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes will receive an all-expense trip to the summer meeting of the American Institute of Cooperation at Columbus next month.

District "E" of the D.C.S.A. is comprised of members living in Columbiana and Mahoning Counties, with a few in Stark, Carroll and Portage counties.

The Association has 5,500 member producers in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia, supplying most of the milk to consumers in the cities and towns of this important industrial area.

of the CNRA's 72 members, walked out of the Tripoli meeting in protest against the makeup of the politburo from which the premier was excluded.

Ben Bella in turn walked out of the Ben Khedda Cabinet and picked up the support of the chief of the 45,000-man regular army's general staff, whom Ben Khedda had dismissed for allegedly plotting a military dictatorship.

Ben Khedda set up headquarters in western Algeria and demanded that Ben Khedda "return to legality" by recognizing the Political Bureau.

Ben Khedda's government disclosed in informal statements Tuesday that it had bowed to Ben Bella and would convene the CNRA Aug. 2 to stamp another seal of approval on the bureau.

Cynthia tries to pick up pennies with the cleaner.

Brother Ricky inflates balloons while Cynthia plans next game.

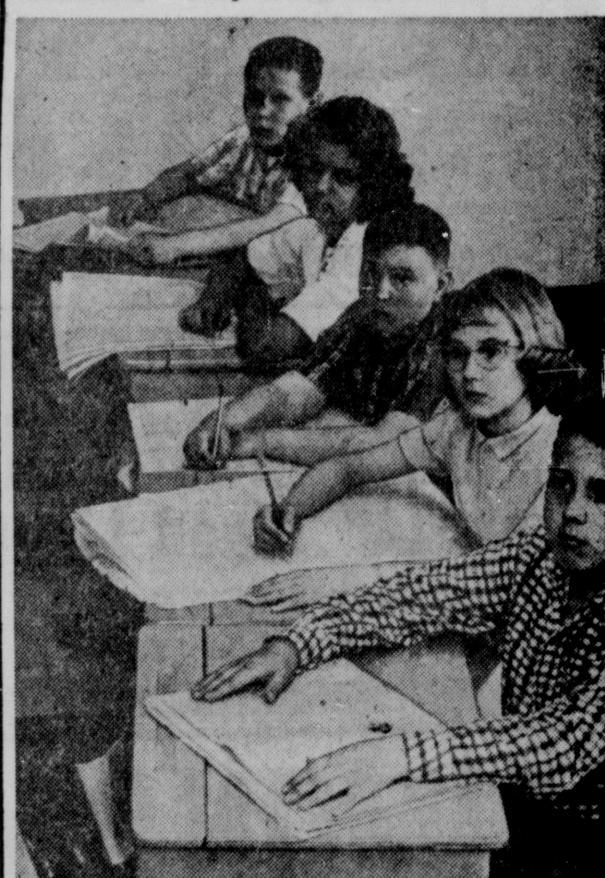

VACUUM CLEANERS, ordinarily, are brought out after the party is over, but they used vacuum cleaners to play games at the seventh birthday party for Cynthia Kahn in Centerport, N. Y. A big hit at the party was a penny pick-up game with the suction attachment of the cleaner. A hockey game without ice involved two vacuum cleaners and a golf ball for a puck. Balloons formed other games—blow them up and break them.

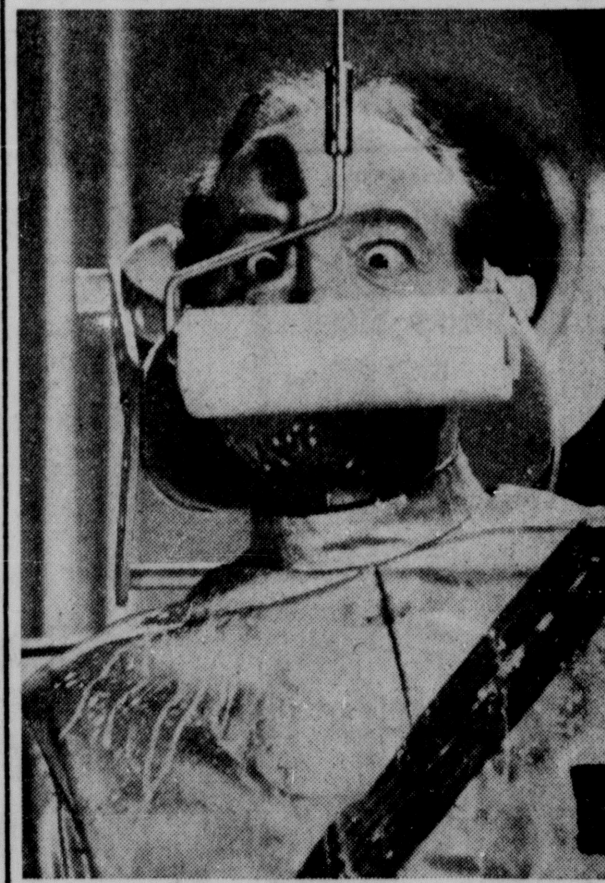

Ricky Kahn is referee for a "hot game" of hockey.

Strung-up balloons dance during game of "break-the-balloons."

TAKING STOCK—Pupils in the sixth grade at Eastmont School in Dayton, O., learn about the stock market in a novel project in mathematics.

MOPPED UP—Bob Hope faces an automatic napkin during scene from his latest movie in London. "Napkin" is wiping up milk squirted at him.

The Ideal Husband

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What is the ideal husband?

Many a lonely career girl and harried wife has strong ideas on this subject, ideas which strike the average man as appallingly naive and which a psychiatrist might describe as "the feminine Cinderella syndrome."

For most women cherish the secret illusion that they are hard-luck Cinderellas whose merits life hasn't properly rewarded. If you melded their dreams and fancies of the perfect husband, he would turn out to be a man who:

- Carries out the garbage without grumbling, or even being asked to.
- Bears a lock of his wife's hair in his wallet, which he takes out and stares at whenever he feels the need of inspiration.
- Looks well in Bermuda shorts.

Never glances at a beautiful woman without shaking his head and saying, "Gee, I'd hate to be married to someone like her."

Not only tells his wife seven times a day "I love you," but goes into detail and explains why.

Owens a paid-up cooperative penthouse apartment in Manhattan, a winter home in Palm Beach, and a cozy villa on the Isle of Capri.

Has lots and lots of lots of life insurance—made out to his wife.

Has a mother who lives in Timbuktu and who wouldn't leave there for anything.

Controls his own firm, so his wife doesn't have to worry about pleasing his boss.

Instinctively knows when she feels depressed, and phones her from the office to tell her, "Baby, uh-huh! Uh-huh! And a great big yes indeedy! But a fat chance they have to find one."

without you my world would be nothing but a mudball."

Run across a 50-foot drawing room to light her cigarettes, because it makes him jealous if any other man tries to enjoy this privilege.

Notifies the moment she puts on a new dress—not eight months later.

Likes to see her have fun at a cocktail party, but never takes more than a 'single martini' himself.

Takes her to a night club or a theater opening on the maid's night out, and loves to hold her hands and look into her eyes in candlelit restaurants.

Yep, that's the faultless husband in most women's eyes.

But do you think the average wife would trade her present stingy, beat-up, money-grubbing mate for a dream husband like that?

Uh-huh! Uh-huh! And a great big yes indeedy! But a fat chance they have to find one.

FAREWELL TO A DOCTOR — Dr. J. Bryan Henrie (right), Grove, Okla., osteopath, gets a hand shake and a good-luck pat from former Delaware County Sheriff Mike Buchanan before Dr. Henrie left for a four-year prison term. He was convicted of manslaughter and abortion. Henrie, 66, pleaded guilty to the charges in the death of a Tulsa housewife. More than 400 persons in the town of Grove, with less than 1,000 population, turned out for the farewell party.

Ruritans To Mark 10th Anniversary

LISBON—Lisbon, Fairfield and Hanoverton Ruritan clubs will be in charge for the 10th anniversary celebration of Ohio Ruritan Saturday at the fairgrounds here.

Lisbon's club will be in charge of the afternoon program beginning at 1:30. Dr. Raymond Weaver, program chairman, said activities will include contests in putting, casting, dart throwing and horseshoes. Mrs. Helen Beers is arranging games for members and wives.

A barbecued chicken dinner will be served at 6:30 with the Fairfield Club handling arrangements and seating.

R. Dale Miller of Lisbon will be master of ceremonies for the evening program, and the Hanoverton club will provide special music.

Guest speakers will be Jack E. Snider, registrar of King College, Bristol, Tenn., and Floyd Lower of Lisbon, president of Ruritan National.

Man Ordered To Tear Down 'Fire Hazard'

Patrick Driscoll of Shelton's Grove has been given until Aug. 19 to tear down an abandoned house he owns at 152 Oak St. in Leetonia.

The order was issued by County Court Judge Luther Donbar here after State Fire Inspector George Boston claimed Driscoll had ignored an order issued in January by the state fire marshal to raze the building.

At a hearing in county court July 9, Driscoll stated that he never received the order from the fire marshal. The case was continued until last Friday when the fire inspector produced a receipt for a certified letter issued by the fire marshal and signed by Driscoll on Jan. 29, ordering the building razed.

The fire inspector says the vacant building is a fire hazard and a danger to the community.

On this day in 1934, Engelert Delfuss, chancellor of Austria, was shot to death by Nazi conspirators. The killers, disguised as members of the regular Austrian army, seized the chancellor in Vienna. The assassination spelled the end of Austrian independence and paved the way for union with Hitler's Germany.

On this date:

In 1859, David Bleasoo — one of the leading dramatists and producers of the American stage — was born in San Francisco.

In 1868, the Wyoming Territory was organized out of parts of Dakota, Utah and Idaho.

In 1908—an American athlete—Johnnie Hayes—won the famous Marathon Run at the Olympic Games in London, thereby raising American prestige in international competition.

In 1944, almost two months after D-Day, the Allied Armies launched an all-out drive to break out of their Normandy beachhead.

In 1952 Puerto Rico became a U.S. commonwealth under legislation signed by President Truman.

Actor Walter Brennan is 68.

Sandwich-In-Round Treat

Fiesta Sandwich Ring is rather sensational. Part of its appeal is an unusual shape—a sandwich in the round.

The peppery ground beef filling is broiled right on the bottom half of a corn bread ring. Then the top is fitted and draped with mellow cheese triangles.

Back to the broiler for a minute or two, and presto! Out comes a handsome sandwich ring.

Fiesta Sandwich Rings

(Makes 8 servings)

Corn Bread Ring:

1 cup enriched corn meal, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 egg, 1 cup milk, 1/4 cup shortening.

Filling:
1 lb. lean ground beef, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 1/4 cup chopped Spanish olives, one 8-oz. can tomato sauce, 1/2 teaspoon ground cumin, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 5 slices American cheese, cut diagonally.

Heat oven to hot (425 degrees F.). For corn bread ring, sift together dry ingredients into bowl. Add egg, milk and shortening. Beat with rotary beater until smooth, about 1 minute. DO NOT OVERBEAT.

Bake in a greased 8-inch ring mold in preheated oven (425 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

Cool ring; split in half horizontally. Place bottom half on

Donovan Wins 13th In Tribe's Victory Over Athletics

Kirkland, Edwards Homer; Yanks Win

Angels, Orioles Split Twin-Bill; Wynn Approaches 300th Victory

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Two big home runs, clutch pitching by Dick Donovan, four double plays and a nerve-jangling relief job by Gary Bell were the ingredients for Cleveland's second straight triumph, a 5-4 victory over Kansas City Tuesday night.

Willie Kirkland started the Indians on the victory path by blasting his 17th homer with two men on base in the first inning.

The Athletics bounced back with two runs in their half of the first to make it 3-2.

Singles by Ty Cline and Don Dillard led to a Cleveland run in the third to make it 4-2. Howie (Doc) Edwards slammed his second homer of the season in the fourth.

Donovan Yanked In 9th
Double plays in the third, fifth, sixth and seventh frames pulled Donovan (13-4) out of the fire. But he jumped into the frying pan in the ninth and manager Mel McGaha yanked the ace right-hander.

After a single by Lumpe and a walk to Siebern, McGaha summoned Ruben Gomez. Manny Jimenez beat out a grounder, loading the bases with none out. Gary Bell entered at this point.

Bell walked Gino Cimoli, then got Billy Concolo to foul out. Gerge Alusik grounded out to first, scoring a run to make it 5-4. Bell then walked Bobby Del Greco to reload the bases, but Jose Tartabull flied out to right to end the contest.

Sam McDowell (2-3) faces the Athletics' Diego Segui (6-5) tonight. If it had been anyone else, he might have smiled. But not Early Wynn.

The ancient right-hander of the Chicago White Sox had a four-hit shutout and was just three outs away from his 297th major league victory—a major milestone in his quest of 300.

Wynn's scowl—as much a trade mark as his smooth, easy pitching motion—darkened his broad face as he pitched to Bob Johnson, leading off the last of the ninth in Washington.

Johnson, who was only one year old when the 42-year-old Wynn

NL Mark Tied By Stan Musial

Drives In 1,860 Runs To Match Mel Ott

By IRWIN FRANK
ST. LOUIS (AP)—"Ties don't count," Stan Musial said after he tied the National League record for runs batted in.

"These things don't count unless you break them," he said jokingly.

With a fifth inning double that drove home the tying run against the Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday night, the 41-year-old outfielder matched Mel Ott's National League record of 1,860 runs batted in.

The fifth place Cards went on to defeat the league leaders 3-2. Musial wants to break the record in St. Louis. He has broken one major league record and four National League marks this year but each time he was on the road.

Musial recalled his biggest thrill—getting his 3,000th hit. It was in 1958 and the plan was to keep Musial out of the lineup until he returned home. The club wanted him to get the 3,000th hit in St. Louis.

But on the last game of the road trip, against Chicago, he was used as a pinch hitter late in the game and got his hit.

Musial has broken several of Ott's records and he said Ott was his hero.

Records set this year by Musial include the major league mark for games played, 2,845, and National League marks for times at bat 10,453, runs 1,895 and hits 3,489.

Golf Kings Vie In World Series

Arnie, Jack, Gary In $75,000 Tournament

NEW YORK (AP)—The $75,000 world series of golf champions in September will be limited to Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player, sponsors decided Tuesday.

Original plans for the 36-hole medal play competition, scheduled Sept. 8-9 at the Firestone Country Club in Akron, Ohio, were to match the winners of the four major world championship tournaments—the U.S. Open, Masters and PGA and the British Open.

Since Palmer won both the Masters and the British tournament, there was speculation that another top pro would be invited to join the threesome.

Walter Schwimmer, a Chicago television producer, and the PGA announced, however, that they and the sponsors had decided to stick to the concept of only champions participating in the new challenge match.

Player qualified by winning the PGA last Sunday, Nicklaus by beating Palmer in a playoff for the U.S. Open title last month.

It will be a bonanza for all three players. The winner will receive $50,000, the runner-up $15,000 and the past place finisher $10,000. The last six holes each day will be telecast live by the National Broadcasting Company.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

For some reason Salem is pretty well infested with wild animals to the point that they have become a nuisance to say the least. Not long ago the Salem police picked up a beaver out on Jennings Ave. nibbling up the shrubbery in the yard of a local resident. Another beaver was cornered and captured by the mill police ambled around on the cement yard of the Mullins Mfg. Co. plant.

I REMOVED A RACCOON from the rafters of the Deming plant in Salem and took another one out of a tree within 200 feet of the old Salem post office, which is practically in the heart of the city. More squirrels can be seen in Centennial Park than you will find in any of the wooded sections out in the wilds.

Recently I have received many complaints about skunks. No one wants to tangle with a skunk including the local game protectors. The point is this: when it reaches the point where either you or the skunk has to go, naturally the woods kitty gets no consideration.

When this little stinker moves in under the porch or finds a den in the garage he can usually be chased away by leaving an electric bulb burning where he enters the den. Skunks are afraid of light and won't re-enter the den, so they move on to some other spot. Therefore, you have "chased the evil" where someone else has your problem.

In July the mother skunk deserts the family and the daddy skunk sticks with the children. In a way I sort of admire this little animal because they are very religious. Once danger approaches the family the mother skunk gathers the children around her and says "let us spray."

Richie Guerin set a new scoring record for the New York Knickerbockers when he tallied 2,303 points in the National Baseball Association last season. He played 78 games.

Rivals Meet Monday At Wrigley Field

Runnels, Berra Added To AL All-Star Squad

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — American League all-star manager Ralph Houk, bent on strengthening his lineup for the second inter-league test next Monday at Chicago, has picked Pete Runnels, the circuit's leading batter, and his own Yogi Berra, an all-star standby for more than a decade.

In a further bid to stem the rising National League tide, the Yankee skipper added Los Angeles' Ken McBride, the league's hottest pitcher, and left-hander Jim Kaat of Minnesota to his staff. Dropped was Boston's Bill Monbouquette, who hasn't hurled a complete game in nearly a month.

Wrigley Field Site For Game

A 3-1 winner at Washington earlier this month, the Nationals go into the second all-star meeting at Wrigley Field with five victories and a tie in their last seven meetings with the rival circuit. Another victory would even the overall series at 16 games apiece. At one point the Americans led 12 games to four.

Houk, taking advantage of the rule that permits addition of three players to bring the squad to 28, obviously chose two left-handed hitters because of the Nationals' deficiency in the southpaw pitching department. National League manager Fred Hutchinson, who will add three players to his squad Thursday, thus far has only two southpaws — Warren Spahn and Sandy Koufax. The latter is expected to be dropped from the squad because of a hand injury which currently has him on the sidelines.

Houk also named Milt Pappas, from Baltimore, to his mound staff, replacing Hoyt Wilhelm. The Oriole knuckleballer had been picked for the first game but had to be replaced by Pappas at the last minute when he developed a sore shoulder.

Donovan Remains On Staff

The American League's nine-man pitching staff includes holdovers Hank Aguirre of Detroit, Dick Donovan of Cleveland, Ralph Terry of New York, Camilo Pascual of Minnesota and Dave Stenhouse of Washington.

As in the first game, the eight players named by their teammates must start and play through at least three innings. The starters are outfielders Leon Wagner of Los Angeles and Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris of New York; infielders Jim Gentile of Baltimore, Billy Moran of Los Angeles, Luis Aparicio of Chicago and Rich Rollins of Minnesota; and catcher Earl Battey of Minnesota.

ed pitcher. The Mets also have a Robert L. Miller, who is right-handed.
Robert L's record is 9-7. Robert G. had never thrown a ball for the Mets before Tuesday night.

Mays Raps 2 Homers

At the other end of the league, Willie Mays continued his hitting rampage with homers No. 30 and 31 to lead the San Francisco Giants to a 3-1 victory over the Houston Colts. The win moved the Giants to within a game of the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers, who were edged 3-2 by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Joey Jay got his 14th victory as the Cincinnati Reds won over Pittsburgh 6-4 and the Chicago Cubs beat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-3.

Houston right-hander Dick Farrell, who admitted last Saturday that he occasionally mixed a wet pitch into his repertoire, couldn't find any way to stop Mays until it was too late. He served up solo homers to the majors' home run leader in the first and fourth innings.

In the sixth he hit Willie with a pitch. That didn't work, either. Mays went on to score the Giants' final run on Orlando Cepeda's single and Felipe Alou's sacrifice fly.

Sanford Wins 13th For Giants

Jack Sanford got his 13th win — and seventh in a row — for the Giants with help from Don Larsen who came on in the seventh after the Colts scored their only run.

The Dodgers again got power hitting from Frank Howard but their vaunted baseline speed was missing.

The Cardinals twice threw out Ron Fairly at the plate as he tried to score from first on doubles by Howard. Fairly was erased in the fourth inning with the Dodgers leading 2-1 and again in the ninth to end the game.

The Cubs snapped their third seven-game losing streak of the season in beating the Phillies. Workhorse Art Mahaffey had a 3-1 lead for the Phils in the sixth when his right shoulder stiffened and he had to leave. The Cub got three runs in the seventh in ning off Billy Smith and Jack Baldschun with Ron Santo's double the big blow.

Casey Stengel left the Mets in the hands of coach Cookie Lavagetto as he went to Kansas City to attend the funeral of his brother, but the story was the same.

Mets Score 3 In 1st Inning

The Mets got three runs in the first inning, on a two-run homer by Felix Mantilla, followed by one by Frank Thomas. The Braves got two back in the same inning off starter Jay Hook, who then held them in check until he left with a pulled side muscle in the sixth.

Jim Hickman made it 4-2 with a homer in the fourth. The Braves got a run in the eighth and tied it in the ninth on Eddie Mathews' single after Lee Maye's double.

It stayed that way until the 12th when Miller came on to make his Met debut.

Hot Stove Leagues

One no-hitter, one one - hitter and one two-hitter were hurled in three of seven Hot Stove League encounters Tuesday.

Class E

CIO 3816 got one-hit pitching from Jim Slaby and Bob King to score an 8-2 victory over Leetonia CIO 4022.

The winners took a 2-0 lead in the first inning and never was in trouble as they rapped a total of 10 hits.

PACING THE CIO 3816 batting department was Dick Barrett with three singles. Slaby added two triples and Bill Ingeldue socked a double and a single. King chipped in with two singles.

Melven VanFosson recorded the only hit for Leetonia, a single off Slaby in the first canto.

Class F

The Elks took over sole possession of first place by blanking the previous pacesetter, Electric Furnace, 4-0 on John Paul Tolson's no-hitter.

Tolson had little trouble with the Furnace nine, who is now 10-4 and trails the Elks (10-3) by a half game, as he walked five and fanned 13 batters.

The Elks tallied twice in the fourth and added two more in the sixth.

Tolson collected the only extra-base hit for the Elks, a double.

Sekely's spotted Shaffer Ford a 1-0 first inning lead and then lowered the boom to score a 13-6 victory.

The winners rolled up five runs in the second inning with Chuck Joseph's homer providing the power. Another five-run rally in the sixth turned the game into a rout for Sekely.

Showing the way for the winners was Joseph with three hits. Jim Dauria added two singles for Sekely. Joseph also hurled the victory, fanning nine.

Jim Windrum with a triple and a single paced the Ford crew. Tod Chappell rapped two singles and Jim Shasteen socked a triple for the losers.

Class G

Rick Royle limited the Bricker aggregation to three safeties as he hurled Hunt's Independent Union to a 12-4 triumph.

Bricker's took a 3-0 margin in the first inning on four walks and an error and upped the count to 4-0 in the second. Hunt's, however, came storming back with the six-run rally in the last of the second to take the lead and the game.

Leading the way for Hunt's were Kenny Kenst and Robby Steele with two hits each. Royle and Ray Lambert added a double apiece.

Featuring for the Bricker nine were Tom Chamberlain and Randy Keefe with a two-bagger each.

Odom's Trips Italian Club 7-2

Lisbon, Democrats Cop Shutouts In 'A'

Shutouts were recorded in two of three Class A softball League games played Tuesday at Kelley Park with the loop co - leaders Odom's Sohio and the Lisbon Hotel chalking up victories to remain deadlocked for the top spot.

Odom's handed the Italian Club a 7-2 setback while the Lisbon Hotel rolled over the Bliss 8-0. Both teams now have 15-5 marks and lead the second place Salem Democrats, who blanked Shaffer Ford 13-0, by three and a half games. The Democrats are 11-8 on the season.

THE HOTEL AGGREGATION had little trouble with the Bliss after a scoreless first inning. The winners poured four tallies across the plate in the second canto on three successive singles by Irving Guthrie, Bob Huffman and Harry Riesenher.

Lisbon came back with three more in the third on four consecutive one-baggers by Lou Talbot, Bevo Frances, Guthrie and Huffman. The Hotel nine added its final run in the fifth inning.

Pacing the nine-hit attack for the Hotel were Guthrie and Huffman, both with a perfect night at the saucer, as each rapped three singles in three trips.

Bob Allison socked a double to feature in the Bliss attack.

Jerry Bryson copped the win as he allowed only three hits, walked one and fanned three. Bruce Riley suffered the loss.

Odom's jumped to a quick 5-0 margin in the first stanza over the Italian Club as Tom Ehrhart blasted a three-run homer to spark the rally. Ray Hertel led the canto off by getting a hit on an error, two walks followed and Jim Smith socked a single to set the stage for Ehrhart's smash.

The winners added a sixth run in the second when Jerry Jeffries singled and was brought home on Dick God's triple. Singles by Good and Marty Limpore powered Odom's final tally in the fourth.

The Italian Club scored both its runs in the seventh inning when John Chaffin led the frame off by getting hit by the pitcher, Jim Hughes singled and both runners came home on Jim Foreman's double.

Good with two safeties paced the Odom's attack. Bill Panzotti recorded the victory as he gave up only three hits, walked one and struck out eight.

Mike Paster was the losing pitcher.

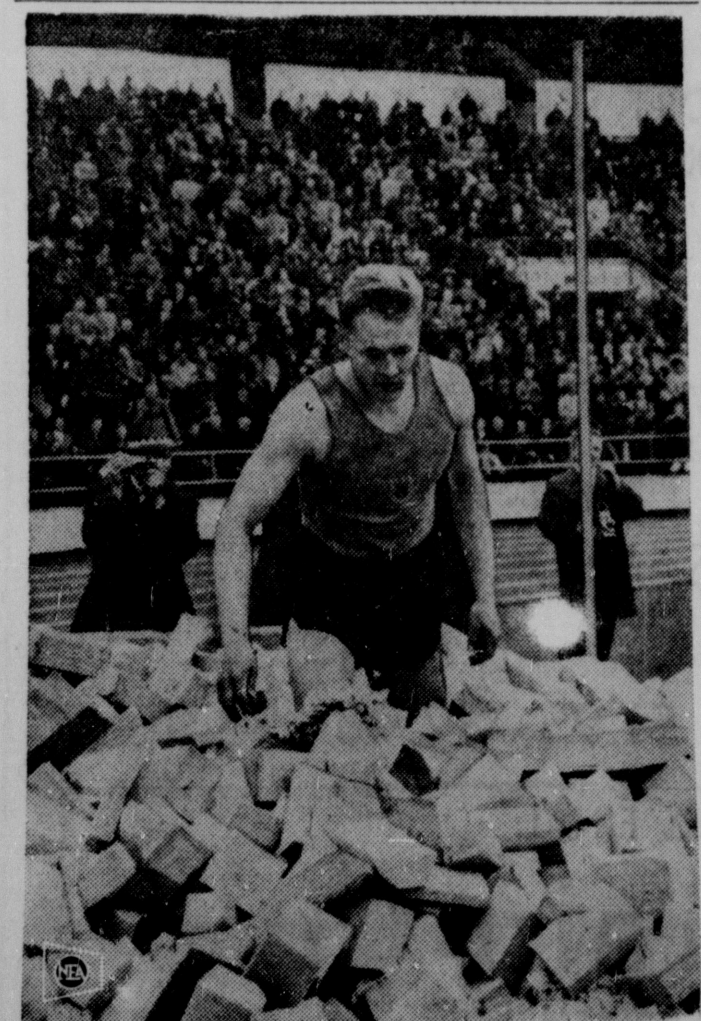

New Track, Cage Federations Formed

National Groups Set To Fight AAU Control

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The new national track and basketball federations were all dressed up today and ready to go—into a real showdown with the Amateur Athletic Union for control of those two sports.

The two groups formally completed their organization Tuesday after a two-day session, ratifying constitutions and naming officers. The track group announced four championships independent of the AAU.

Federation of High School Athletic Associations.

Representatives of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the National Prep Federation and junior colleges comprised main attendance at the two-day conclave.

Showdowns between the NCAA-inspired new federations and the AAU are expected soon, although Cliff Fagan, executive secretary of the National Prep Federation, who was acting chairman at the two-day meeting, said the AAU "still is invited to join our group."

July 5 was the deadline for the AAU, which has spurred a year's beckoning by the new federations to become charter federation members.

AAV Proposal In For Trouble
The basketball federation, which has approved a $20,000 annual budget to establish an office at a site to be designated, already has the AAU over a barrel concerning a proposed Russian basketball tour in November.

The AAU must ask the basketball federation to permit college cagers to compete a month ahead of the regular season to face the Russians in a proposed eight or nine game series in this country. To make such a request would be an AAU admission that the federation controls the top U.S. cagers.

Columbiana Tankers Meet Lisbon Sunday

Fresh from their second impressive victory of the season Sunday over the Salem swimming team, the Columbiana Firestone Pool squad will return to competition this Sunday at 8 p.m. when they travel to Lisbon for a meet in the Sadie VanFossan pool.

Columbiana's win over the Salem Centennial Park Pool squad Sunday was by a 106-65 score. Earlier in the month, the Clips defeated the locals 115-65.

The standout in Sunday's meet was 15-year-old Terry Nightengale who accounted for 21½ of Columbiana's 106 points. He captured the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:16.9 and the 40-yard freestyle in 2:1 flat. He and teammate Pate Burkhardt tied for first in the 100-yard freestyle with a time of 1:04.

Nightengale teamed with Dick Keller, Jerry Winning and Burkhardt to win the 160-yard freestyle relay.

Tom Pim was a double winner for Salem. He won the 200-yard freestyle in 2:45 and the 80-yard individual medley in 1:07.

Boys and girls aged 10-16 participated in the meet.

In this day of Mechanized Farming, Farm Safety is of the utmost importance; it pays to be alert and have everything in order. See that tractors, trucks, and other farm machinery and equipment are kept in repair. Watch electric especially in the outbuildings. Be careful about building bonfires. Fire on a farm is a serious matter! Do you carry Liability Insurance, so that if someone is injured on your property you would be protected? Are your buildings properly insured? Do you have accident and hospitalization insurance? The modern farm is like a factory and safety first is given great importance in manufacturing plants, Better Be Safe Than Sorry!

Farm Work Mishaps

Injure 321,600 Each Year

Surveys show that many of these accidents on farm-lands and about farm buildings took the lives of young people who were not properly safeguarded by their parents and had not acquired safety instructions.

Foresight now will at least take the sting of financial burden away from these accidents that seem bound to happen!

A word from THERON at the Old Country Store

Wed. night and Sat. night a lot of people watch the Kart races on the asphalt track here behind the Country Store. There is no charge but they do pass the hat if you care to donate a little to help pay for the blacktop.

These kids and their fathers are getting to be pretty much of experts. If you don't have anything better to do why not stop down. They like to have a lot of people watching them, they put on a better show then.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

Depression Can Cause Suffering

Most persons who have gone through periods of depression insist that the suffering they endure is worse than that inflicted by pain. And I am inclined to agree. What intensifies the suffering is the fact that physical findings and lab tests all come out negative. The depressed patient complains of feeling weak, let down, blue, disinterested, easily tired, ambivalent, down - in - the - mouth, lower-than-a-snake and so forth. But all the reports come back saying there's nothing the matter. Finally, both patient and family conclude that the complainant is a neurotic, hypochondriac, sad sack, wailing Willie sorrowful Susie or a malingerer who is trying to get out of duties, obligations and chores.

It is quite true that, in many instances, a depression is blown up out of all proportions. But it is also true that the depression that hits previously conscientious women and men of good will is as real as a boil on the end of a nose.

SOMETIMES a genuine depression is a manifestation of the frequently encountered manic-depressive condition so vividly described by a correspondent who wrote to thank me for advocating shock treatments:

"Some nights," she wrote, "I was praying to die. I felt there was no hope for me. My doctor said he could find nothing wrong with me. And my husband and children took me for a chronic complainer. Since I had seen eight doctors within the course of a year, you could hardly blame them."

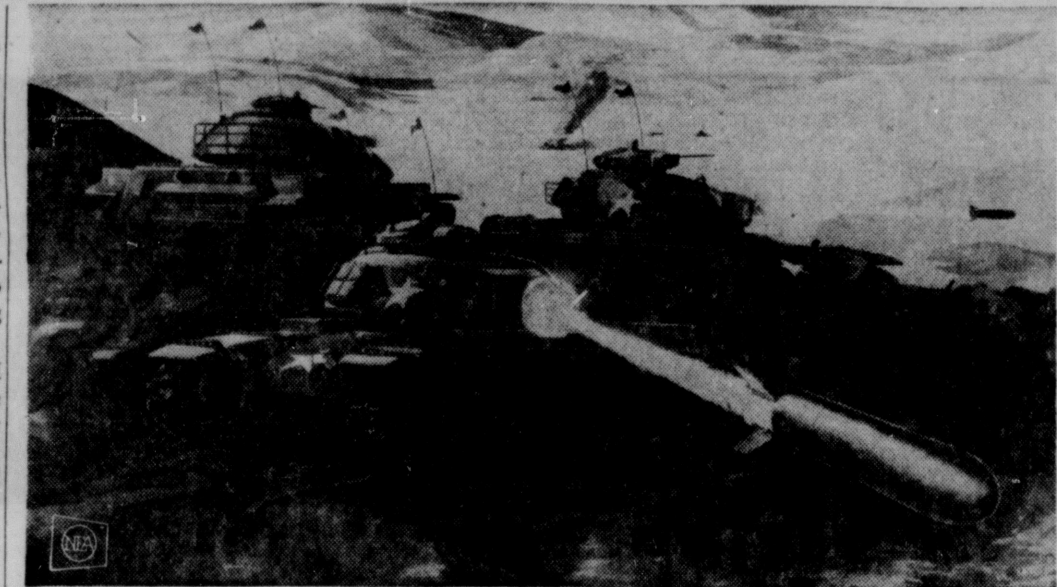

"I had hundreds of shots of vitamin B complex and B-12, countless nerve tonics and all sorts of gland pills or capsules. Then, all of a sudden, the veil lifted and again I can take my rightful place in my community—and my deepest gratitude goes to you for helping me keep my self-confidence and self-respect."

"I WONDER," writes another correspondent, "if some of these depressions, like mine, aren't the result of undulant fever. For years I was treated as a hypochondriac until one doctor discovered I had undulant fever."

"Since then I have talked with many who felt as I did and I was amazed to learn that their doctors had not considered that possibility or taken tests to find out about the infection. Many, indeed, did not even know if they were running a slight afternoon temperature that I've since learned is so common in the chronic stages of that infection."

"Please write again about it because no one who has not had it can realize the horrors of the patient and the frustration that goes with being treated as a 'hypo'."

Well, here it is, you who are now—or formerly—were—as low as a dachshund's belly. Charge on your doctors. You have nothing to lose but the blues.

Matter of Fact

Roman bridges, aqueducts, and other massive works still stand in many places in Europe. These ancient works have exhibited extraordinary durability. The Romans, who were brilliant construction engineers, used concrete made with lime as the cementing agent. This material is undoubtedly responsible for the structures' long lives.

SHILLELAGH FOR THE ARMY — The Army's proposed lightweight "shillelagh," surface-to-surface torpedolike missile streaks from launching port of a tank in this artist's sketch. The new missile system, now under development by Army ordnance and private industry, would provide greatly increased fire power for close-in support of combat troops against enemy forces and installations.

U.N. Studies Use of Force To End Katanga Secession

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Congo Advisory Committee members today studied a suggestion by Acting Secretary-General U Thant that military force be used as a last resort to end the secession of the Congo's Katanga Province.

Committee members said Thant asked the 19-nation group during a closed-door meeting Tuesday their opinion of a military operation if economic pressure cannot end President Moise Tshombe's defiance of the central Congo government.

Thant told a news conference in London July 7 the United Nations was planning new action against mineral-rich Katanga. But he added: "It has never been my intention—and never will be my intention—to use any military initiative."

Katanga troops fought United Nations forces to a standstill last September. New fighting broke out in December and the United Nations won control of the center of Elisabethville, Katanga's capital.

Since then the United Nations has tried to negotiate a settlement between Tshombe and Premier Cyrille Adoula of the central government. Negotiations were broken off in June, and Tshombe told a news conference Monday he no longer considers Adoula a valid spokesman for the central government.

Members of the Congo Committee said Thant also raised the possibility of an economic blockade against Katanga and asked whether the committee thought the Security Council should be called soon to consider the situation.

Katanga broke away from the central government two years ago and proclaimed an independent nation. The United Nations and several individual members, including the United States, have pressured Tshombe since to end the secession as the only way of giving the Congo a chance of reaching economic and political stability. Katanga's copper, cobalt and other mineral resources are the major asset of the former Belgian territory.

Most of the resources are controlled by the Belgian Union Miniere Corporation. The mining company presently pays taxes only to Katanga, and the United Nations wants a major portion shifted to the Leopoldville government.
